

Jay Oglesby, Freelance Web Developer

Terms of Use & Privacy Policy As Adopted June 20, 2026

Terms of Use

All sites managed by Jay Oglesby are presentations of the services offered by a business. Some of those services may themselves be offered online. Oglesby and his clients reserve the right to block access to, or refuse service to, any person for any reason. This includes but is not limited to abusive, threatening, or sexually crude language; the planning or solicitation of any illegal service; the solicitation of personally compromising information; or the intentional sowing of discord (trolling).

As both law and common sense dictate, no individual under the age of 13 is permitted to submit any information on any site.

Every website which displays a Facebook feed is subject to Facebook's Terms of Use, available at <https://www.facebook.com/terms/>.

Privacy Policy

Oglesby and his clients pride themselves on respecting your privacy. Very minimal information about your use of his servers is gathered and shared with his clients.

The following information is collected for each visitor and shared with our clients:

1. The country from which you are visiting our web page
2. Your approximate time on the page; i.e., when you accessed the page and for how long
3. Some clients elect to see what each user clicked on.

That's it. Put simply, your data is not being sold because no data worth selling is being collected. This site is a safe place.

Some clients elect to incorporate their Facebook pages into their websites. In that case, accessing our site allows Meta the same data they would be afforded were you to visit the client's Facebook page directly. We do not have access to this information.
